Heyburn Police makes special delivery

Partnering with non-profit organizations to help local students.

HEYBURN, Idaho | March 20, 2024 —

Through the generosity of others including Dr. Jack and Mary Zarybnisky, 20 food boxes were compiled for students at Mt. Harrison High School in Heyburn. Heyburn's Mayor, Dick Galbraith, and the on-duty Heyburn Police officers made the special delivery to students. With the help of Mt. Harrison High School students and staff, all twenty gift boxes were unloaded to be distributed before Spring Break.

Mayor, Dick Galbraith.

"The City of Heyburn is happy to help be a part of this donation. We appreciate the generosity of the Zarybnisky's and the network of donors who support our amazing community."

Police Chief, Ryan Bertalotto.

"Mt. Harrison is a great community partner, and we are honored to help be a part of this delivery. It's a great way to give back to our community's youth."
